*30th Anniversary Edition
Robert W. Groves High School
100 Wheathill Road
Garden City, Georgia*

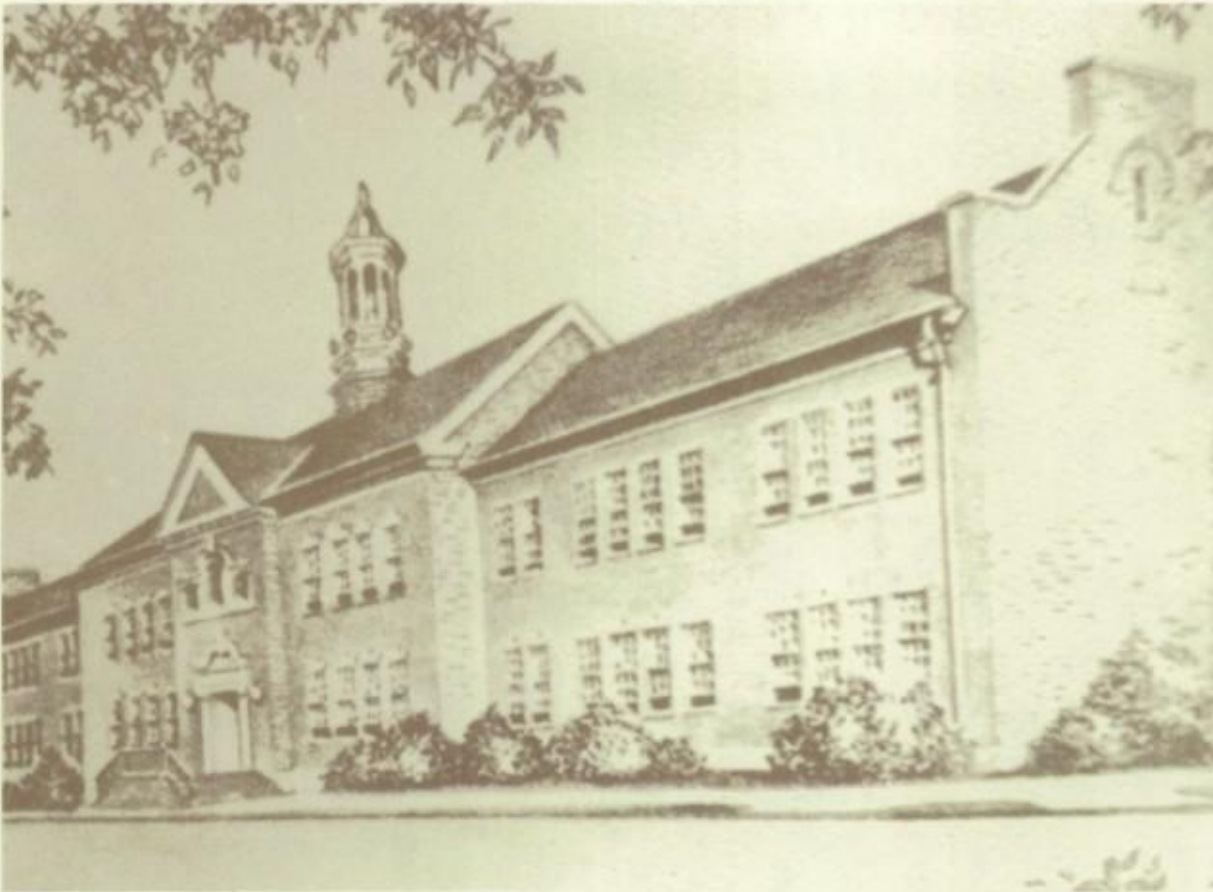

Mr. Robert W. Groves, Sr., stands in front of the high school named in his honor in 1958.

This book is dedicated to the memory of those Groves students who gave their lives in the service of their country in Vietnam: Charles Evans, killed in action July 22, 1967; Don C. Sykes, killed in action April 3, 1968; Larry Holmes, killed in action May 18, 1969; Ronald Payne, killed in action November 7, 1967; and James Randall Wells, killed in action April 7, 1968.

1957: A Year of Beginnings

In the year 1957, the U.S.S.R. launched its first satellite, Sputnik, into space. Dwight D. Eisenhower was entering his second term as president. Hit tunes such as "April Love" and "Tammy" raced up the charts. Pat Boone and the Everly Brothers won audiences across the country. "I Love Lucy" was the most popular television show, and three new T.V. series began that year: "Leave it to Beaver," "Perry Mason," and "American Bandstand."

The year 1957 was also of great importance for West Chatham County, as ground-breaking ceremonies for a new high school on the Westside were held on October 4, 1957.

This is a sketch of Commercial High School which housed Groves during its first year, 1957-58.

Groves High School as it looked in September, 1958, when it opened its doors to students.

Commercial High School graduated its last senior class on June 2, 1958. During the 1957-58 school year, however, underclassmen at Commercial were already calling themselves the Groves High School Rebels.

The school was dedicated on October 12, 1958. Dignitaries from the state and local governments were present at the ceremonies. Mr. Frank C. Underwood, Jr., served as master of ceremonies. Other participants included Dr. Claude Purcell, then State Supt. of Schools, John B. Miller, President of the County Board of Education, Mayor Warren J. Oglesby of Garden City, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Groves, Sr.

Groves became the second four year high school constructed in West Chatham County, the first being Woodville High School (now Tompkins High), which served black students.

The school was dedicated on Sunday, October 12, 1958.

Groves graduated its first senior class on June 1, 1959. Show below is an invitation to that first graduation.

The Man: Robert W. Groves, Sr.

Mr. Robert W. Groves, Sr.

The school is named for the late Robert W. Groves, Sr. He was a prominent business and civic leader in Chatham County.

During his lifetime, Mr. Groves was president of Strachan Shipping Company and of the Atlantic Towing Company. For many years he was a director of the Savannah Bank and Trust Company and served a board chairman from 1942 until his death in 1971.

Besides his many business activities, Mr. Groves was very active in community affairs. He was particularly interested in young people and their educational needs. He demonstrated his concern by giving both moral and financial support to programs at Groves High School.

Mr. Groves' Scottish heritage was honored by the choice of the school colors, black and gold, which are derived from his family's tartan. The school's nickname "The Rebels" and its mascot "The Bagpiper" were also chosen to honor Mr. Groves.

Throughout the 1960's, however, it was incorrectly assumed that the Groves Rebels were Confederate Rebels. The 1970 SENTINEL was the last yearbook to represent the school as Confederates. Under the advisement of teachers Mrs. Linda Dekle and Miss Donna Ackerman, the 1971 yearbook revived the Scottish heritage. Since that year, Groves Rebels have been encouraged to live up to the independent traditions established by the Scottish Highlanders of the 16th and 17th centuries.

Eight men have served as principal of Groves over the past thirty years. Mr. Donald M. Gray was the first principal, serving in this capacity until March, 1964, when he transferred to the Central Office Building for the school system. The school's rifle range, and gymnasium were built and dedicated during Gray's tenure at Groves. In its first years Groves served primarily white students in grades eight through twelve.

Gray's successor was Mr. J.

Rife English, who had served as the school's first assistant principal before becoming principal of Chatham Junior High and then the newly-constructed Mercer Junior High School. Mercer opened on September 4, 1962, becoming Georgia's first environmentally controlled school. English returned to Groves as its principal in April, 1964. He remained until January, 1971.

While English was principal, the school plant was enlarged.

Additions to the library, cafeteria, and gym were completed during the 1967-68 school year. The loge was also enclosed, which provided one additional classroom and the current faculty workroom. English resigned in January 1971.

Mr. Larry Harley was appointed principal for the remainder of the year and was followed by Mr. Adam R. Andrews, who held the

It was during the Andrews' administration that forced bussing was ordered by the federal courts. This created tension among black and white students, who were dissatisfied over their school placement. Most of these students had gone to either predominately black schools or predominately white schools.

Mr. Andrews was forced to close school on three occasions during the 1971-72 school term because of racially motivated fight. Chatham County policemen were called in to patrol the campus to aide in maintaining order in the school. Assisting Mr. Andrews during his administration was Mr. Alexander Speed, the first black school administrator at Groves.

During the summer of 1973, Andrews was appointed principal of Savannah High School. He was followed at Groves by Mr. James King.

Mr. King was well-liked by both students and teachers. His youthfulness and energy brought a refreshing change in the school's atmosphere. Students particularly liked his motorcycle, long hair, and humor. They felt King was genuinely concerned with restoring school spirit and unity at Groves. His administration saw the revival of the Ring Dance, which had last been held in 1971. The Baccalaureate Service for seniors was revived by the Class of 1975 and continues today. Groves is the only public school in Chatham County that has a baccalaureate for its seniors.

Under Mr. King, pep rallies were frequent as were school dances. School spirit was at a high, thus inspiring the football team, coached by John C. Horn, to finish the 1974 season with the best record in the school's history. The Rebels finished the regular season with a perfect 10-0 record and were winners of the city and region titles with a bid at the state championship.

Groves High Rebels:

The First 30 Years

Rewis Freyermuth was elected president of the first Groves Senior Class on Friday, April 18, 1958. Other officers included Tommy Miller, Vice President; Brenda Minus, Secretary; and Effie Lou Knight, Treasurer.

Homecoming Week was exciting for students in 1959 as it is now. Below, a few senior girls pose with Donald Stewart in their "Kiddie Day" attire.

A student's final homecoming dance can be a very sentimental occasion; therefore, these seniors, l. to r., Lafayette Tapley and date, Martha Fay Webb, and Linda Stevens and date allow their picture to be taken before departing for the dance.

Mr. King was succeeded by Mr. Frank Tison. The Tison years may well be remembered as the years of Chatham County's experiment with the quarter system in the high schools. The regular school year was divided into three quarters, similar to college. Students were allowed freedom to select much of their course of study. A variety of courses were offered, but teachers struggled with lack of textbooks and other teaching materials. The quarter system was short-lived and ended in 1981.

Interesting events to recall from Tison's administration include a fabulous production of the musical "South Pacific," which was directed by drama teacher Tim Tynan and choral director

Bill Herrin, Mr. Mike Moynihan's dinner theaters, the open campus, and the hour-long lunch periods for teachers and students. Seniors and juniors were allowed to eat at nearby fast-food restaurants.

Mr. Tison resigned two weeks prior to the end of the 1980-81 school year. Mr. Robert Cresswell was immediately appointed principal of the school.

Cresswell was a progressive educator and was always searching for new and innovative programs for the school. He rallied the community behind him in making the physical school plant more attractive. He worked hard to improve school spirit and was very successful. He created a senior lounge, equipped with a couch, tables, and a television for seniors to enjoy during their lunch.

While he was principal, the school utilized the vacated building across the street, which was formerly the Wheathill Branch of the Savannah Vo-Tech School. This allowed some teachers and students to teach and learn in an environmentally controlled building. Groves lost access to this building for regular classes when the Secondary Technical Center opened in 1984.

Two of Cresswell's most innovative programs were the opening of the school building at night as a community education center and the creation of a summer program for gifted students. The community education center provided continuing education for people of all ages. Courses were offered in business, art and recreation. College classes were even made available to interested persons. That program was short-lived, but "The Academy," for gifted students, continues to operate each summer at Bartlett Middle School.

Cresswell was a hard worker, and he worked his teachers hard. He expected success out of the teachers and students. He believed there was no such thing as a burned out teacher. He once told the faculty: "If a teacher says he's burned out, he was never really lit." That, of course, was his opinion. His teachers, however, had their own opinions of that statement.

During Cresswell's administration, Groves had its first female assistant principal appointed. Mrs. Dorothy Williams served one year in the capacity of assistant principal before transferring to Beach High School as an assistant principal.

Cresswell resigned in June, 1985, to become principal of Heritage High School in Conyers, Georgia. Mr. R. Wayne Bland, an alumnus of Groves, was named to succeed Cresswell as the school's eighth principal.

Bland's first task on the job was to enforce much-needed rules and discipline over a student body that had become too accustomed to a more relaxed educational environment. These actions established Bland as a very firm administrator and set the tone that has remained constant throughout his three years at Groves.

Mr. Bland believes Groves is a good school, but in order to reach excellence continued changes within the school are necessary. He believes excellence in education will not be achieved until teachers understand their purpose at school is to teach, the students' role is to study and learn, and parents are to reinforce that learning at home.

During his first year, it was Bland's strong leadership that contributed to Groves High successfully completing its ten-year self-evaluation. The school was reaccredited in 1986 by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

His three years as principal have seen major systemwide and statewide changes in education. Curriculum alignment has been implemented in high schools throughout the county, now providing consistency across the school system. The Board of Education has also set a minimum passing grade of 70 for course work, and it changed from students receiving letter grades to students receiving numerical grades. The Board also now prohibits the use of tobacco in any form by students and teachers on school property.

These changes, along with additional guidelines resulting from Governor Joe Frank Harris' Quality Basic Education Act, have been demanding on administrators, as well as on teachers and students. It has taken the strong leadership ability of Mr. Bland to help make these many changes less stressful on his faculty and students. Without doubt, he has been the motivating force that has helped parents, teachers, and students at Groves adapt.

Mr. Bland stresses success, especially academic success. One program he implemented this year was the tutorial program, in which students receive tutoring from teachers on Wednesday afternoons after school. He places academics first in his list of priorities for his school. Perhaps for the first time in the school's history there exists a healthy balance between academics, athletics, and extra-curricular activities. Our standardized test scores are rising, and this year's Georgia Basic Skills Writing Test scores exceeded the passing percentage of those of both the local system and the state. Passing this test is now mandatory in order to receive a regular diploma in Georgia.

Bland seems to have an endless supply of energy. He is a thinker and is always "brainstorming" for better ways to improve education.

While the twentieth century is fading, the Class of 2000 is already completing kindergarten this year. What does the future hold for them? Mr. Bland is very optimistic about the future of public education in Chatham County, especially at Groves. He believes that in the very near future this school and system will become one of the top educational organizations in the state.

Mr. Alexander Speed was named Groves' first black administrator in 1971.

Coach John Horn coached two undefeated football seasons, 1971 and 1974. The baseball field is now named in his honor.

Veronica Baxter was elected Miss Groves 1972. She became the first black student to ever hold this title.

Dale Williams and "Danny" will always be remembered for their entertaining dialogues. Dale graduated in 1972.

Rick Hutto (1970) served as an aide in the White House during the Carter administration. He now works with the Challenger Space Center in Washington, D.C.

Senior Sherri Lovezolla busily at work grading papers for one of Mrs. Walea's classes.

Everyone knows that students have their good years, their bad ones, their best and their worst. How do the Rebels rate the 1987-88 school year?

Several students are pictured here during lunch doing what they do best—talking.

Jessie Gray, who moved here from Macon and is new to Groves, says this is definitely one of his best years so far. He feels much safer at Groves than at the school he attended in Macon.

Mr. Bland is "getting to know" a few of the freshmen during "B" Lunch.

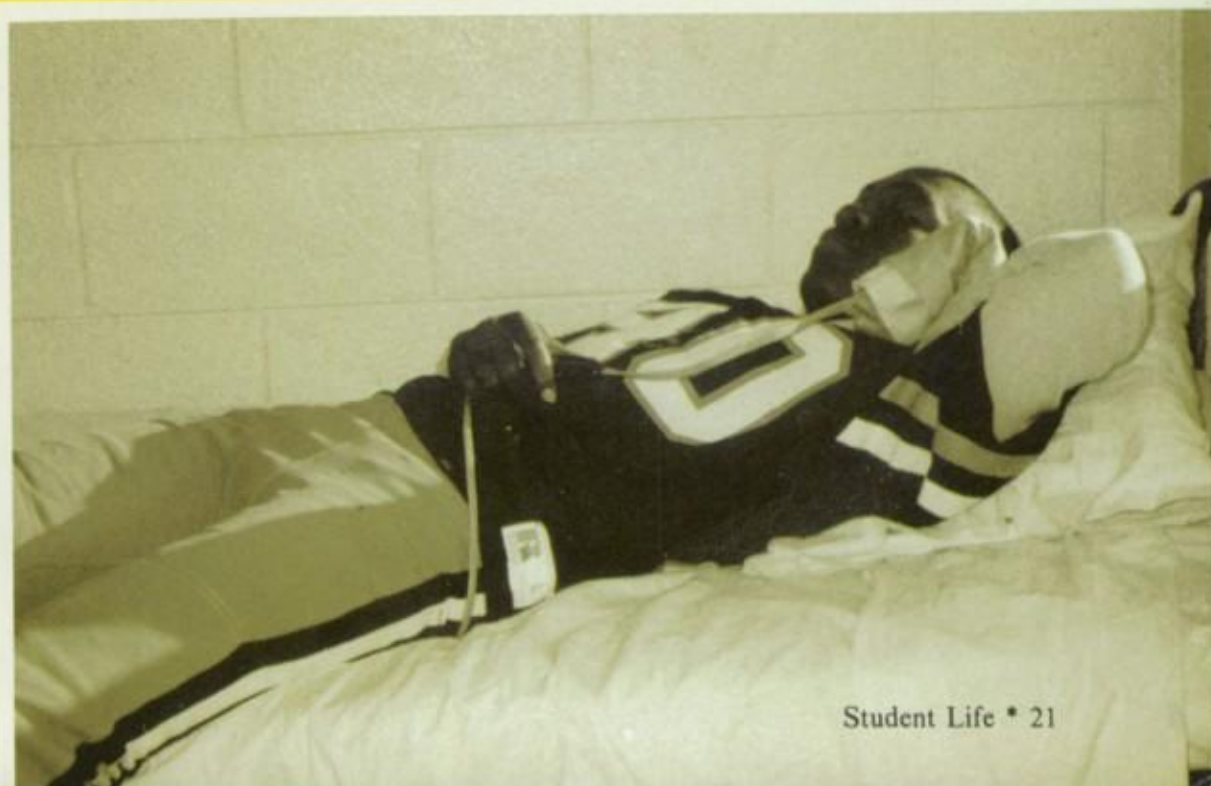

Karen Knight: "This is a sad year because I will be leaving Groves, but it's fun being a senior!"

J.P. Cooper and Michelle Wright, both seniors, observing the pep rally before the Groves-Statesboro game. They apparently lack a little of the enthusiasm necessary to enjoy it!

Lara Brinson, a freshman, says this is a good year because she is passing, but it's not great because she's only making C's.

Joseph Lawrence, a senior football player, seeks relief in the nurse's office after being injured in a game on the previous Friday night.

Luke Blake working with clay in Mrs. Ragan's sculpturing class.

Obviously, different people like different classes. Several students were asked what their favorite class is. Their responses are listed below.

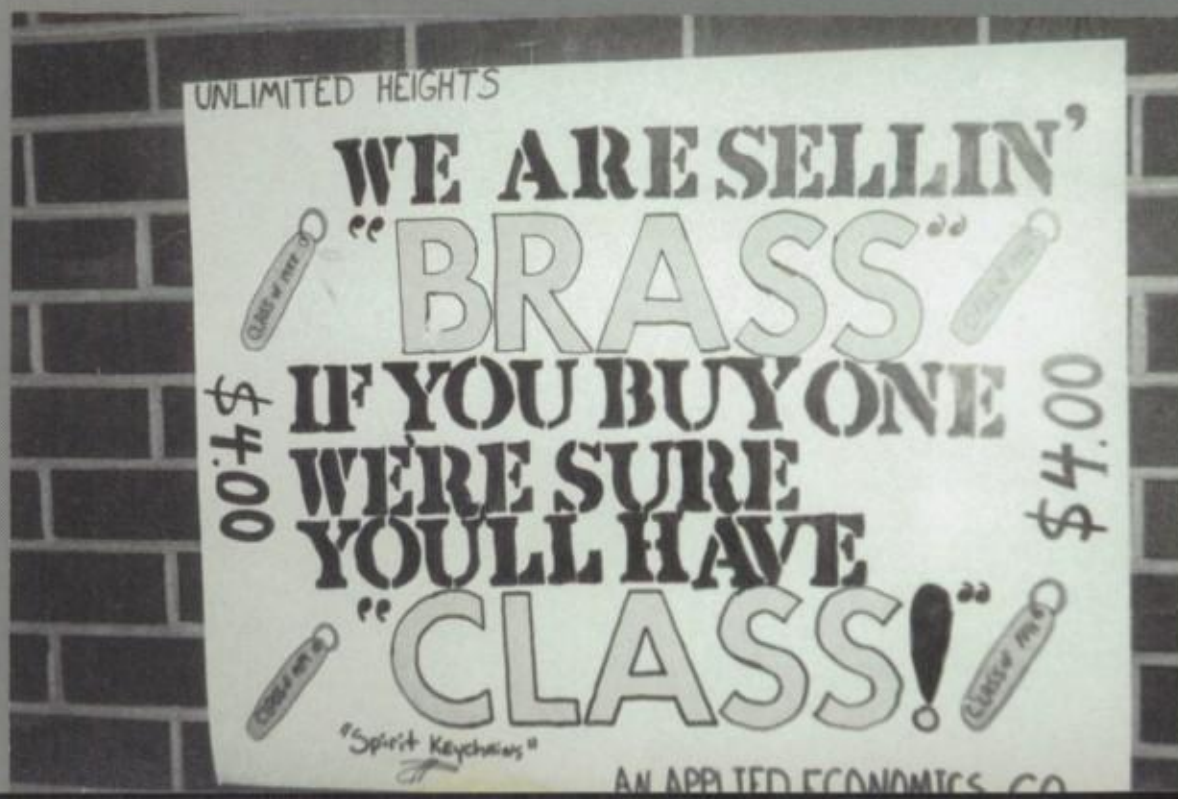

Junior Josh Reese: "Spanish is my favorite class. It is small and we have fun."

Michelle Litchfield, who is a senior, says sociology is her favorite class because she can discuss things openly and honestly without fear of ridicule or other repercussions.

Sophomore Mark Mack is caught, somewhat by surprise, as he fumbles through his locker between classes.

Uh-oh, seniors Dee Shurling and Kimberly Hill catching up on some sleep in Mrs. Patricio's English class. Mrs. Patricio hovers nearby.

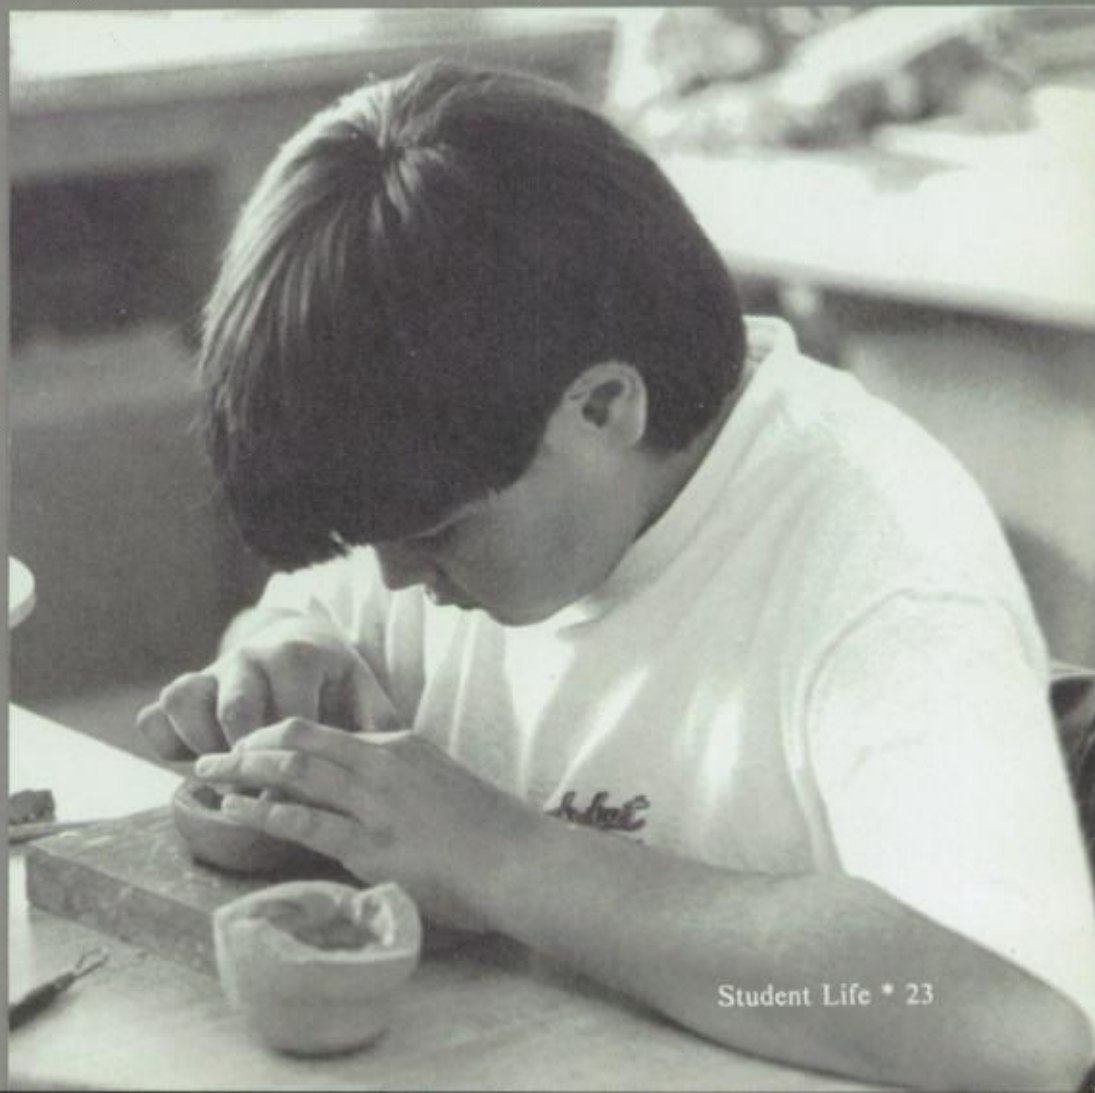

Michelle Wright, a senior, says that she doesn't sleep in class.

Chuck Morgan, a sophomore, sometimes sleeps in class because he gets bored.

Juan Joy, also a sophomore, says that he does not sleep in class.

Sam Fuller, a junior who sometimes sleeps in class, says he does so when he doesn't get enough sleep.

Sophomore Michael Renaldo busily at work on one of his masterpieces in his art class.

Homecoming Week

Janet Crosby, with a slight grin on her face, does well to contain herself as Mr. Bland escorts her after she was crowned Groves High's 1987 Homecoming Queen.

After School . . .

Many high school students live for after school hours and weekends. What do Groves High students do when they are not within the confines of school walls?

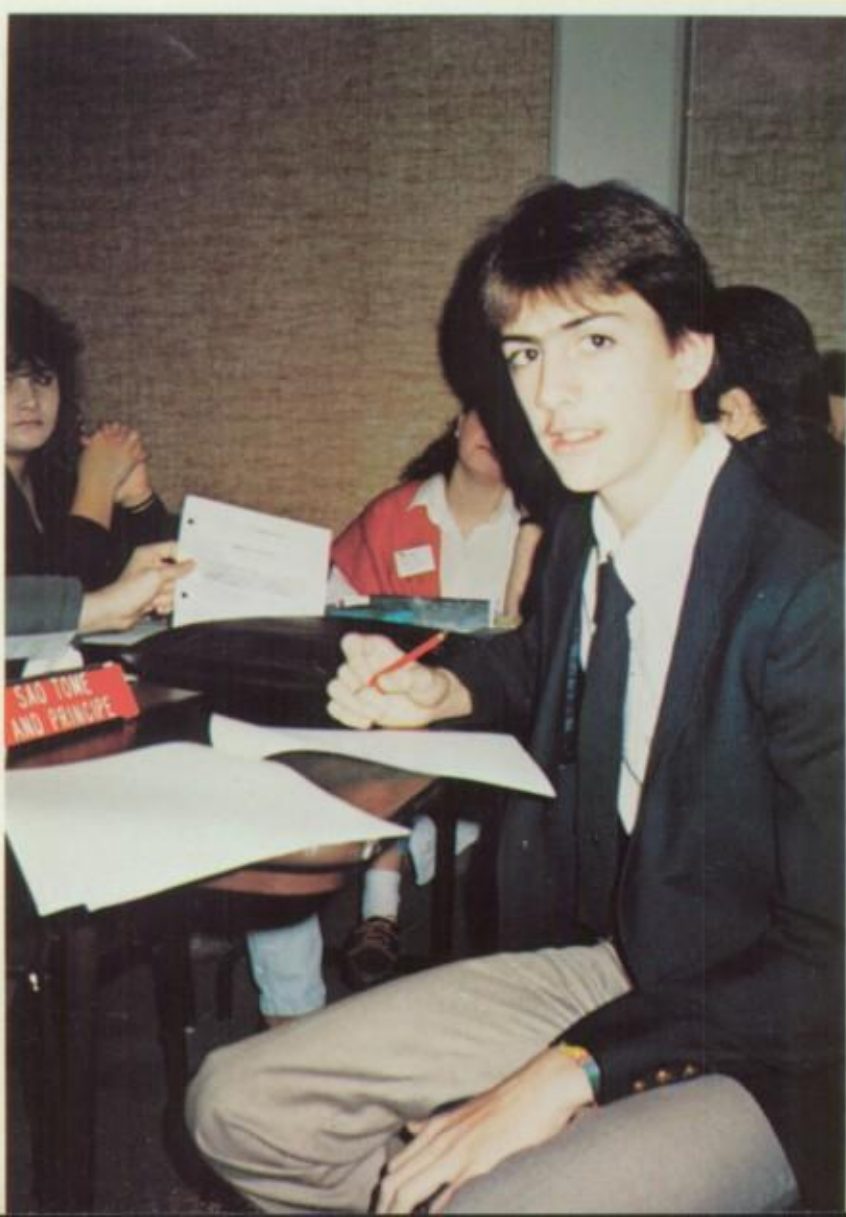

Dennis Jones poses for a proud moment as he is awarded the rank of Eagle Scout during ceremonies on October 12, 1987.

Busily at work, Jamie Kreyenbuhl takes some notes at the Model United Nations one weekend at Georgia Southern College in Statesboro.

Mr. Bland joins in to help Leslie Clifton fold paper bags after school in a community service project for the Coastal Community Food Bank.

Paula Sanders, a senior at Groves, goes to work when she isn't at school. She also goes out with her friends and hangs out in the shed.

On weekends, Traci Brackett, a freshman, goes to football games and the mall.

Todd McIntire, a junior football player, says he plays ball on the weekends and goes out to have fun.

Chanin Sprague peers back for one last look as she leaves behind another day at Groves.

Ronnie Harden displays his musical talents as he D.J.'s at this year's homecoming dance.

Jay Melvin studies over pages for the yearbook after school to see that they are correct.

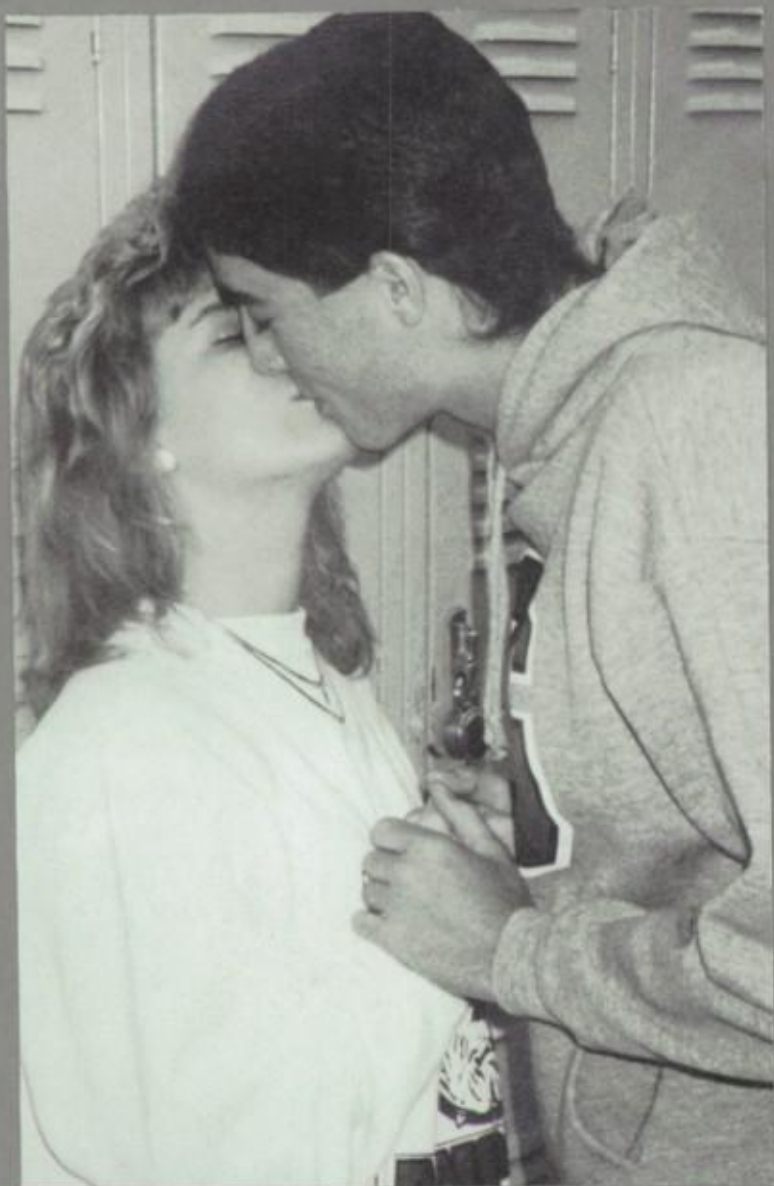

Jason Lee shows his talent as he repairs a radio.

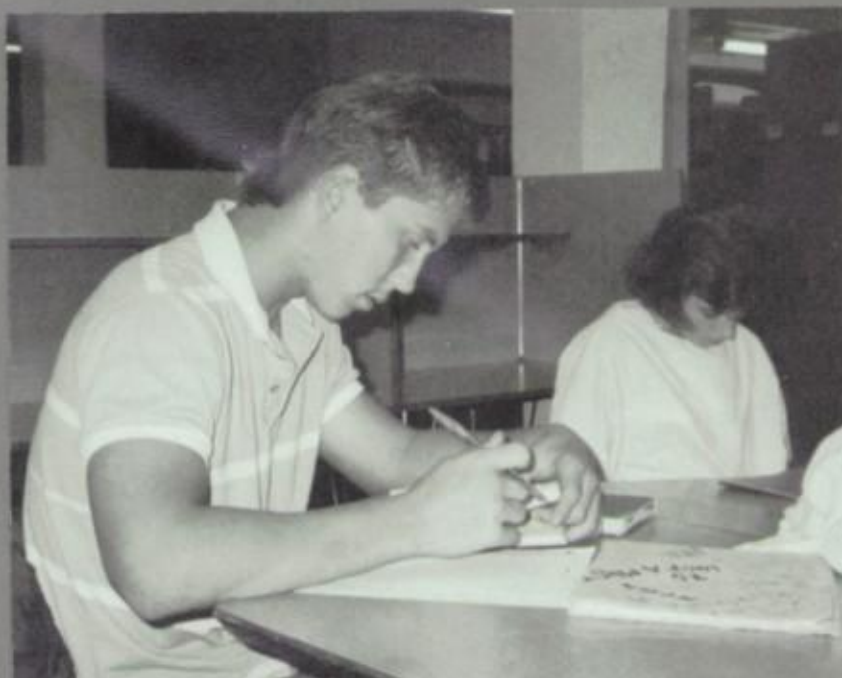

Friends enjoy a bite to eat at Krystal after a long day at school.

Kim Burton and Josh Reese say goodbye to each other at the close of the day.

Jessie Gray takes advantage of the tutorial program.

Underclassmen At Random

Regina Richardson and Jessie Gray enjoying each other's company one evening during a skating party at the Garden City gym.

Chris Rogers and Shannon Hall, both freshmen, doing a little dance at the 1987 Homecoming Dance.

This is something all underclassmen must do in order to blossom into a true Groves senior.

The World

In an effort to keep the Persian Gulf open to navigation, the U. S. began in July to escort vessels to protect them from Iran. In September the U. S. Navy blew up an Iranian ship that was caught laying mines in the Gulf. Several mines were confiscated.

President and Nancy Reagan wave to well-wishers from the South Portico of the White House. Reagan escorted his wife back to the White House from the Bethesda Naval Hospital where she underwent breast cancer surgery.

President and Mrs. Reagan greeted Pope John Paul II when he arrived in Miami to begin a nine-city tour of the United States.

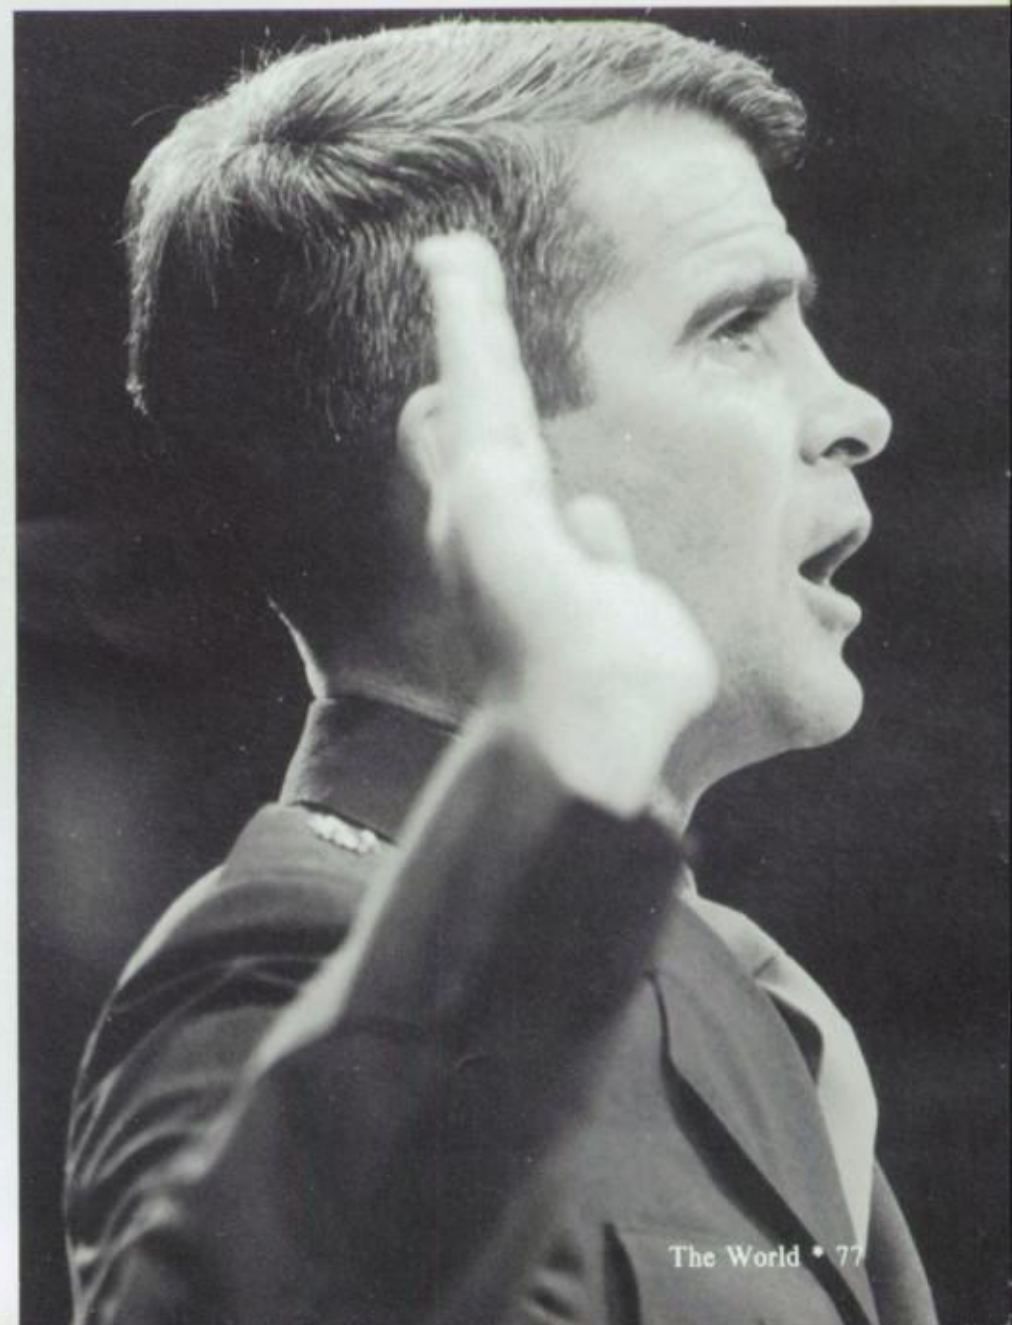

The Senate rejected President Reagan's nomination of Robert H. Bork to the Supreme Court by a 58-42 vote, which ended a long contentious debate over a judge alternately portrayed as a brilliant jurist and a dangerous extremist.

The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. Some called it a "crash," others called it "Black Monday." Whatever it was, it stripped $500 billion from the market value of U.S. securities.

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North, was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat of a celebrity.

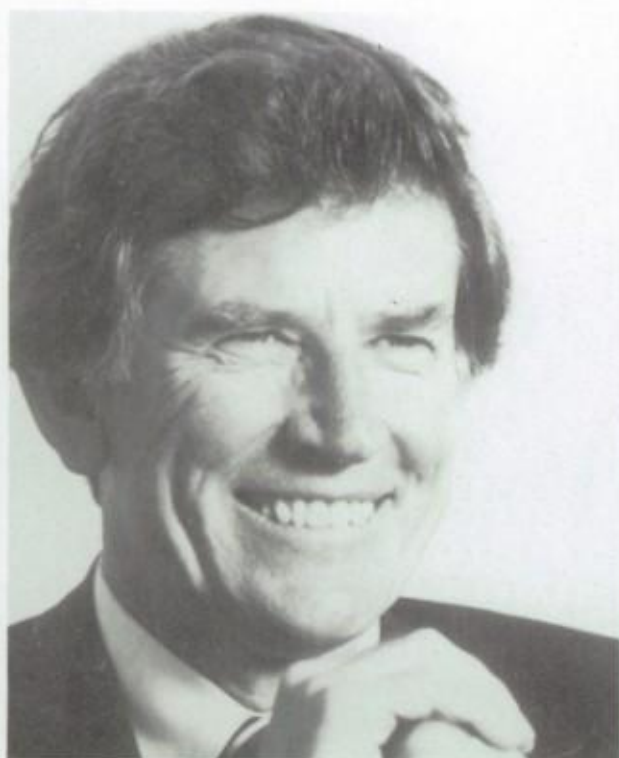

Television evangelists Jim and Tammy Bakker said farewell to the PTL ministry in March. Jim Bakker resigned after confessing to a sexual encounter with a young woman. Tammy Bakker bowed out of the broadcasts to undergo treatment for drug dependency.

A barge filled with 3,128 tons of garbage became a national joke and a symbol of the nation's worsening problem with solid waste management. The barge, looking for a place to dump its cargo, was banned by six states and three foreign countries before an incinerator reduced it to ash.

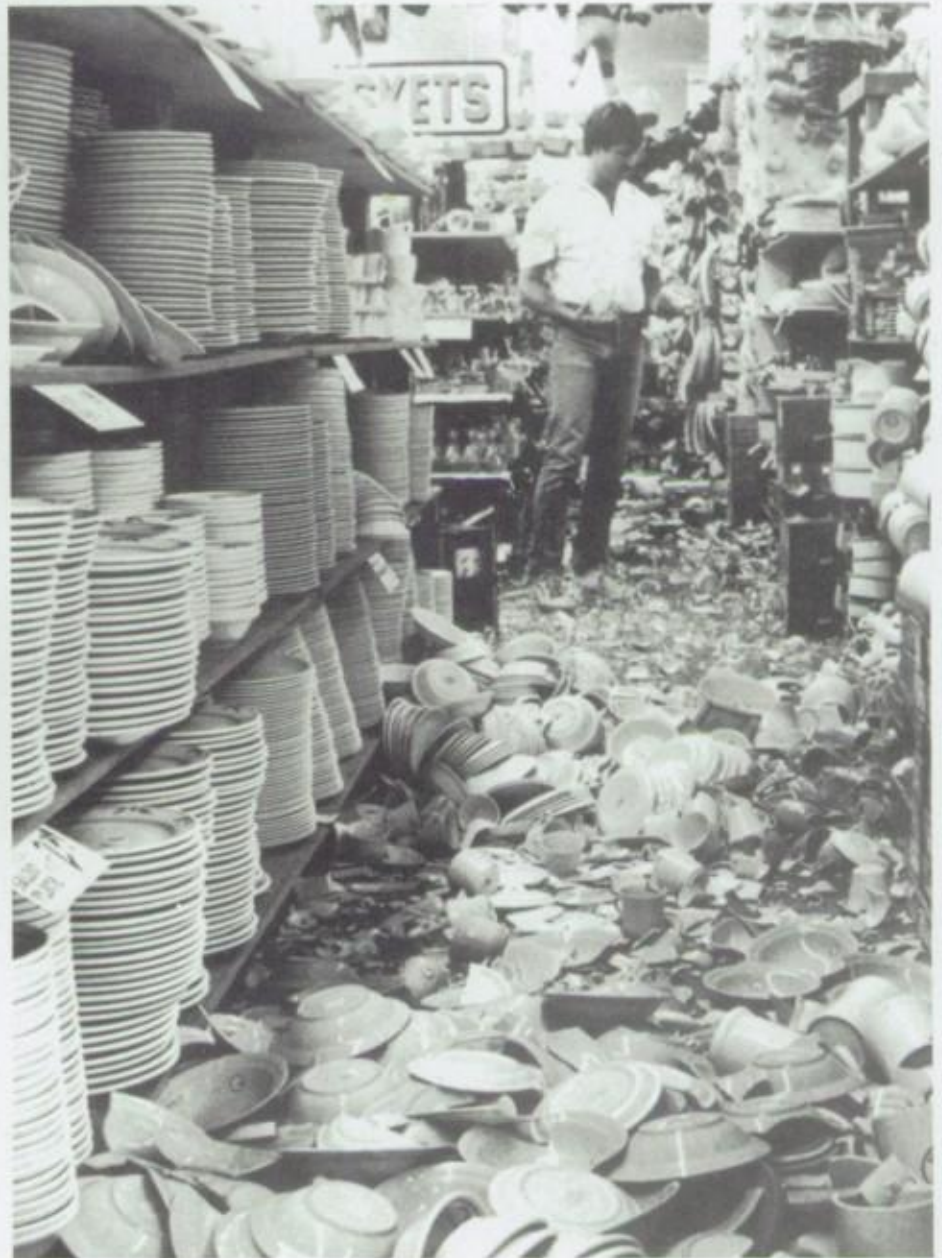

Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart was forced to drop his bid for the presidency after it was reported that he was romantically involved with Donna Rice, a 29 year old aspiring actress and model from Miami. He then surprisingly re-entered the race for the bid in mid-December.

The Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco celebrated its 50th birthday. About 250,000 people jammed onto the bridge for an anniversary walk across the span. Another 500,000 packed the bridge approaches but were denied access because the engineers feared the span could not support the weight.

An earthquake that measured 6.1 on the Richter scale hit Southern California in October. It was not a catastrophic quake, but the damage was extensive.

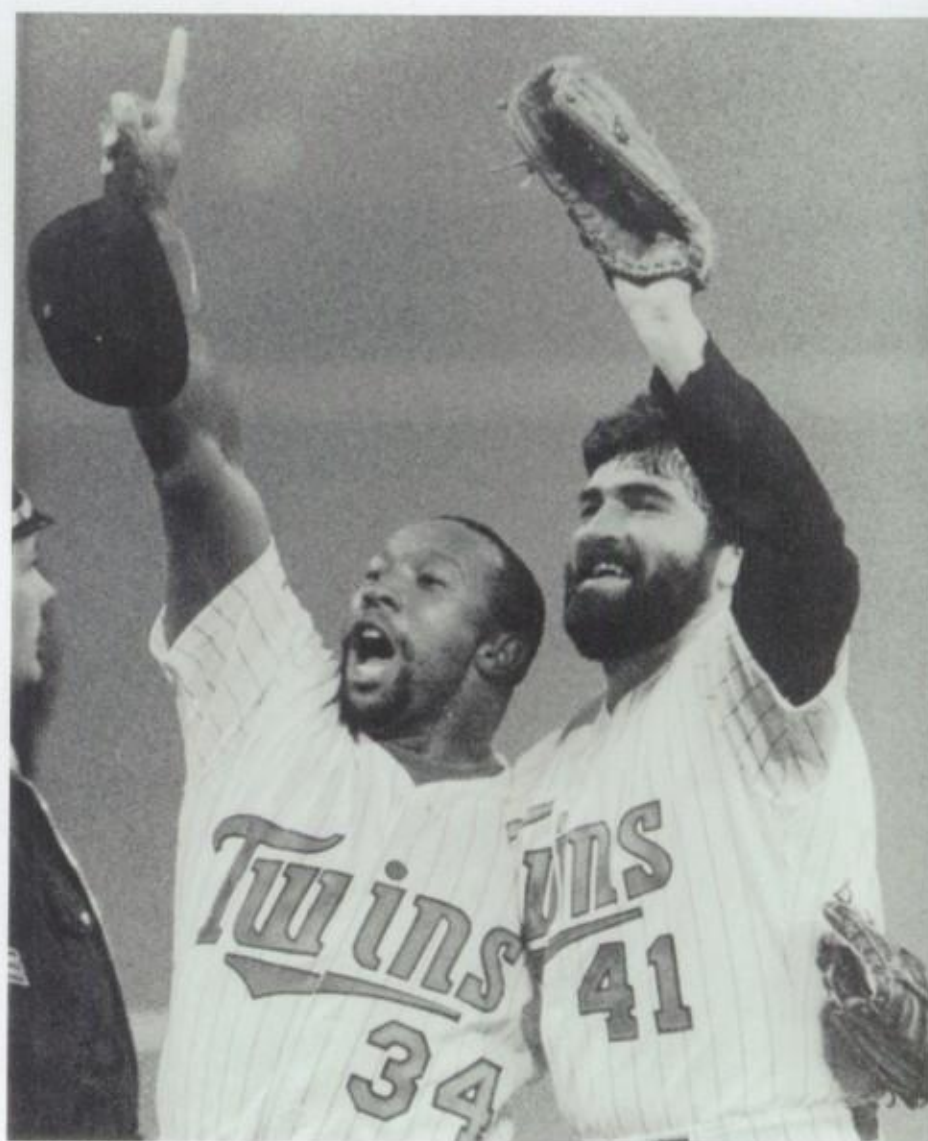

In the six years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity-robbing disease from which no one recovers, AIDS has killed nearly 25,000 Americans, millions of dollars have poured into medical research and President Reagan has proclaimed the plague "Public Health Enemy No. 1."

Dennis Conner, the man who lost the America's Cup in 1983, won it back four years later. The Stars and Stripes completed a 4-0 sweep over Australia's Kookaburra III in the race that took place in Australia.

Kirby Puckett and Jeff Reardon of the Minnesota Twins celebrate their World Series victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. The Twins won the seventh and final game of the series 4-2.

A 24-day strike by the NFL players ended in mid-October when the union capitulated and went to court instead of trying to fight the club owners at the bargaining table.

The 1988 STAR Student, Tammy Gammon, selected her English teacher, Mrs. Gretchen Patricio, to be her STAR Teacher.

Phi Delta Kappa Honors Seniors

Phi Delta Kappa, a professional education fraternity, honored three seniors with "Certificates of Excellence." They are pictured above, l. to r., Jennifer Mills, Danny Green, and Michelle Bachmann.

Rotary Top Seniors

The Westside Rotary Club is a service organization comprised of businessmen in the community. One of its functions is to honor the top seniors at Groves each year.

Rotary Top Seniors are those who have maintained a 90 average or above over the first three years of high school and are currently enrolled in at least three academic subjects.

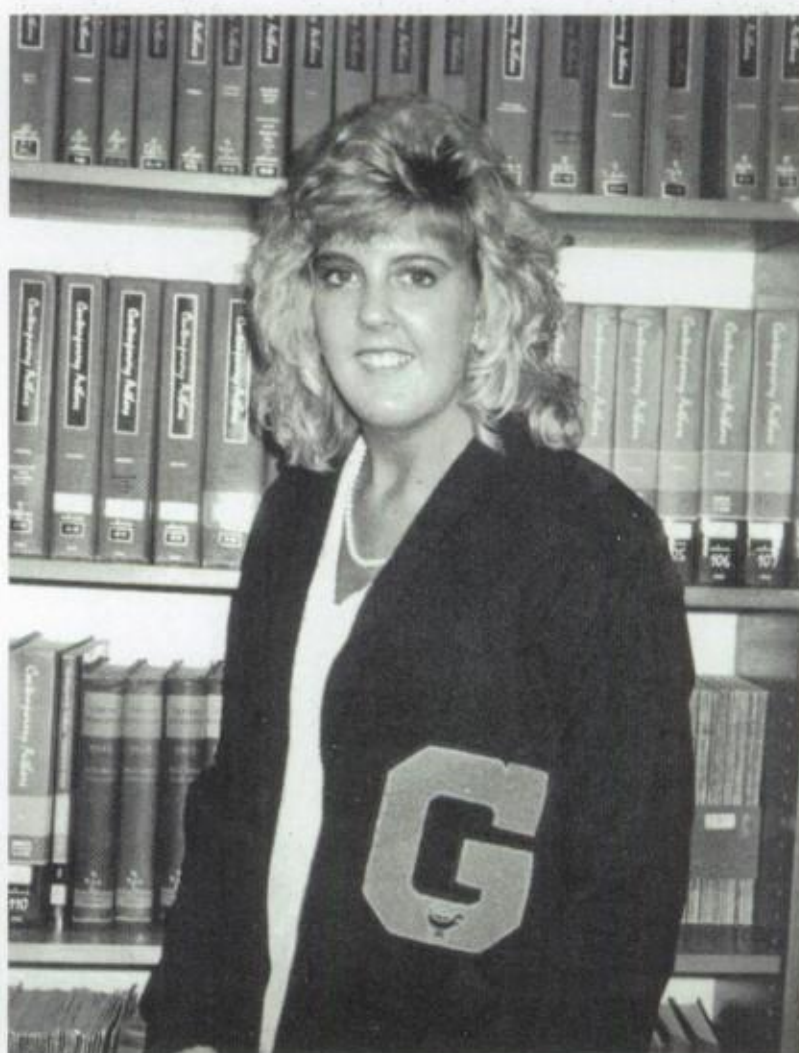

The Rotarians give a luncheon in honor of these seniors in January, and they present them with academic sweaters.

U.S. Senate Award

The recipient of this year's Senate Award for Georgia's First Congressional District was Tammy Gammon. The purpose of this national program is to enhance students' knowledge of the legislative process. Tammy was selected from applicants throughout the First District.

Executive for a Day

The following students from Groves participated in this year's Executive for a Day program. Kneeling (l. to r.)—Karen Knight, Jennifer Iler, Beau Varnadoe, Angela Acquilino, Tony Sikes, and Barry Criswell. Standing (l. to r.)—Jennifer Mills, Michelle Bachmanna, Ann Kirby, Vicki Mack, Tammy Gammon, Gail Burton, Janet Crosby, Amanda Snipes, Lisa Jackson, Tonya Oglesby, Jason Zettler, Debby Byrd, and John Cann.

Boys' and Girls' State

Advanced Placement Credit

The Advanced Placement program allows students to earn college credit while still in high school. A.P. students are exposed to a more rigorous program of studies through more in-depth classes. Earning college credit last year were, left to right, Tammy Gammon, English and American history; Stephanie Barnes, English; Bobby Harvey, American history; Dee Shurling, English; and Jennifer Mills, English.

The Hugh O'Brian Award

The Hugh O'Brian Award is presented to sophomores throughout Georgia who exhibit leadership ability. Jamie Kreyenbuhl, pictured at left, was selected from Groves to attend the statewide competition in Atlanta.

Governor's Honors Program

The Governor's Honors program is designed to promote scholastic and leadership abilities. All semifinalists participate in an interview in which they compete against students from all over the state for the privilege of attending a six-week summer program. Pictured above, at left, are this year's semi-finalists. They are, l. to r., as follows: first row—Latarasha Parrish, Communications; Margaret Young, Music; Dawn Evangelista, Math. Second Row—Jay Melvin, Communications; Jamie Kreyenbuhl, Social Studies; Juan Joy, Music; Kevin Rogers, Music. Tammy Gammon, shown above at right, attended the GHP last summer in the area of communications.

Mr. and Miss Sentinel

John Cann and Tammy Gammon
Mr. and Miss Sentinel 1988

Every year the Sentinel staff honors outstanding seniors who are nominated by the faculty on the basis of leadership, character, and scholarship, as well as their contribution to the school. The top seniors are then questioned by a panel of judges from outside the school who choose Mr. and Miss Sentinel.

Danny Green and Jennifer Mills

Victor Baxter and Lisa Jackson
Second Runners-Up

Miss Rebel 1987

The Omega Beta Club sponsors the Miss Rebel pageant each year. Julie Manning was the winner of the 1987 contest, which was held last spring at Mercer Middle School. Cindy Renaldo was First Runner-Up, Natalie Thompson, Second Runner-Up; Pamela Creel, Third Runner-Up; and Janet Crosby, Fourth Runner-Up.

Mr. and Miss Groves

The Student Council sponsors the annual selection of Mr. and Miss Groves. The winners are announced at the Junior-Senior Prom. Pictured at left are Victor Baxter and Angela Acquilino, Mr. and Miss Groves, 1988. Chris Hinson and Kim Davis were First Runners-Up; James Pickard and Randall Waters and Renee Smart, Second Runners-Up; Steve Redding, Kimberly Hill, and Lisa Woods, were Third Runners-Up.

Holiday King and Queens

1987 Homecoming Queen and Court

Groves High Football '87

Plagued by injuries, the Groves Rebels limped through an inconsistent season. On opening night at Memorial Stadium against Savannah High the Rebels took an early lead in the first quarter when Kevin Wagner and Vincent Campbell hooked up on a TD pass. Groves would miss the two-point conversion, which would later prove vital. In the second half, SHS would score a touchdown and a two-point conversion to win 8-6.

Bouncing back from a bitter defeat, the Rebels returned home for a date with the two-time defending Region champs, Bradwell Institute. Groves scored early and often to knock off the tenth-ranked Tigers, 32-15.

Coming off their big win, the Rebs traveled across town to play Windsor Forest. The undefeated Knights were excited about their "Wonderball" offense. It was soon a known fact that "Wonderball" was no match for "Rebelball". Groves cruised its way to a 40-14 thrashing of the Knights.

The Rebels returned home to entertain their arch-rival Benedictine. The Rebels soon found out that win number three would not be easy. Dean Kicklighter ran all over the "Nasty Bunch" to lead B.C. to a 20-6 win.

After the tough loss to B.C. the Rebels hosted Statesboro. The Blue Devils proved to be too tough for the Rebels. Groves dropped its second straight 23-12.

Groves made its longest journey of the year when it traveled to Brunswick to take on Glynn Academy. Kevin Wagner passed for a season high 254 yards, but Groves still lost, 35-14.

Groves returned home for the annual homecoming game. This year's opponent was Johnson High School. The Atomsmashers ruined homecoming for the Rebels. Kevin Wagner sealed the Rebels' fate with two key interceptions in the fourth quarter. The Rebels lost 17-13.

The Rebels four-game skid finally had a ray of hope when they met the Tompkins Wolverines, who were winless in their "trail of tears." Groves finally won as they knocked back the Wolverines 28-6. Victor Baxter carried the ball 15 times for 122 yards.

Groves faced its toughest task of the season the following week as they traveled to Springfield to play the undefeated Effingham Rebels. Groves proved to be no match for Effingham, as they demolished Groves 44-6.

With one game to play and nothing to lose, the Rebs traveled to Savannah State to play Jenkins High. Victor Baxter spoiled the Warriors' homecoming alone by gaining 177 yards on 21 carries and 4 touchdowns to pace the Rebels to a 24-6 victory over the Warriors.

Coach Brennan: The Man Behind the Team

Coach Brennan and Mr. Bland

Tommy Brennan is in his third year as head coach of the Groves Rebels. Before coming to GHS, Brennan spent 18 years as an assistant coach. He was at Windsor Forest from 1967-1976. After that stint, he joined the staff at Benedictine. He stayed there until 1984. In 1985, his first year at Groves, he led the Rebels to an 8-2-1 season, the city championship, and a sub-region championship. His record at Groves is 15-15- 1.

Coach Roberson Returns to GHS Softball

Miss Mary Roberson, after a year's leave of absence from coaching, has returned to the position of head coach of the girls softball team. Coach Roberson has coached 12 seasons of softball at Groves. This year the Lady Rebs completed their 12th consecutive City Championship. The girls also won the Bryan County Invitational Tournament. During the 1987 season, Coach Roberson achieved her goal of "taking a team that's maybe not as strong as past teams" and still continuing a winning tradition.

Senior Girls Lead Team

The Lady Rebels continued their winning tradition this year thanks, in part, to excellent senior leadership. This year's seniors were small in number but very big in talent. The Lady Rebs lose a cornerstone of Groves' softball due to the graduation of Janet Crosby, Karen Knight, and Leslie Langford. This year's senior class graduates two All-city selections and the team's clutch hitter.

Janet Crosby, who always seemed to come through with a base hit at the right time, will be missed offensively and defensively. Coach Roberson has to find an offensive threat as well as a defensive stopper at first base.

Langford leaves a large vacancy in the middle of the infield. Her tremendous arm and great fielding earned her a great defensive reputation. She's a two-time All-City selection.

Perhaps the largest hole to fill will be left by three-year veteran Karen Knight. She pitched every game this year. She also showed that pitchers can hit, too, with the second highest batting average on the team. Karen was also selected to the 1986 and 1987 All-City teams.

The Groves Lady Rebels cruised to a 13-6 record. The season included two major milestones. First, they won the Bryan County Invitational for the first time. The other major event was retaining the city championship for the twelfth consecutive season. At the Fall Sports Banquet Karen Knight was awarded the Most Valuable Player award. Sherry Smith had the highest batting average, and Stacey Roberts received the Most Improved award. Leslie Langford received the defensive MVP award.

Groves High School's 1988 Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Jeannette Murray, a social studies teacher at Groves, was named this year's Teacher of the Year by her peer teachers. Mrs. Murray competed among nineteen public school teachers who were nominated for Chatham County Teacher of the Year program.

A graduate of Savannah State College, Mrs. Murray has taught at Groves for four years. She is the advisor of the Student Council. Mrs. Murray's personal philosophy of education is that "every child can learn something if he is given a chance to learn."

A Tribute to Mrs. Laura Mole

Mrs. Laura Mole, a librarian/media specialist at Groves for the past 17 years, will retire at the close of this school year, completing 30 years of service in education.

Mrs. Mole has been a loyal friend, teacher, and co-worker to Groves' students, faculty, and staff. The SENTINEL Staff salutes her upon reaching this point in her life and wishes her the very best in the years ahead.

Mrs. Laura Mole and I transferred from Mercer Junior High School to Groves High School in August, 1971. In other words, we were promoted from junior high to senior high!

It was a pleasure to have Mrs. Mole on my staff at Mercer teaching seventh grade English. I was pleased to have her transferred to Groves with me in the capacity of assistant librarian.

May she enjoy her retirement for many years and wonder how she found enough time to teach school.

Adam R. Andrews
Principal, 1971-1973

I consider the retirement of Mrs. Mole a great loss to the Groves High family. Her 17 years at Groves have been a valuable asset to our school. I've enjoyed having her on my faculty for the last three years, and I wish her much happiness in her retirement years.

Wayne Bland

for 30 Years in Education

For ten years the team of Mills, Mole, and Aspinwall has provided services and materials for faculty and students. When Mrs. Mole retires a vital part of that team will be gone. She has been a valued friend and confidante. Students will miss her infinite patience in helping them locate and use materials. The faculty will miss her calm demeanor and unique humor. I'll miss you, Laura Mole. What will I do with all those Snickers bars?

Joyce Mills
Media Specialist

Once while I served as librarian in summer school, I admired a certain teacher who was especially skilled in working with her class in the library. I suggested that she might like to be a librarian. She admitted she had thought about the idea. That teacher was Mrs. Laura Mole.

Later in 1971, she was appointed to serve as assistant librarian at Groves High School. How fortunate I was to work with her at Groves! What a great contribution she has made to the lives of students and teachers!

Ruth Bond
Groves Librarian, 1962-1977

People like Mrs. Mole make high school remembrances special. She always had a kind word and warm hug to share. I will never forget our "Momma Mole."

Passage

There is an end
To the journey of living.
Although the venture will seem timeless,
Its day shall come.

Body and spirit will separate
And go its separate ways.
The flesh to the dust,
The soul to the heavens.

Despite the physical pain of today
The afterlife will dominate thereafter.
For the greatest wretchedness
Can never match the pleasure of the passage.

—Chris Cook

A Child

A Child
Lost in a cruel, cruel world
A child
searching for himself to no avail
A child
doomed to a pre-determined destiny of discrimination
A child
a valuable resource lost at the hands of senseless, uncaring people
A child
now grown up, a laborer in a diamond mine
A child
never given a chance to develop to his full Potential

—Jay Melvin

Beauty Secrets

My face so soft with skin,
But I do have a double chin.
I can't go anywhere, not even to the fair.
My eyes are beautiful as the moonlight,
But they were bloodshot from a fight.
I live my face so beautiful and all, that's why I hid behind the wall.

—Renee Smart

No Love at All

Blank Visions of love passed through me.
I have yet known
How love can be.
I feel so alone.
I'm trapped in a world of pain and misery
And life seems so weary.
We all need love.
We all need to care.
For one day love will not be there.

—Fernando Lewis

Pure Good

Sounds of evil,
Sounds of death,
Sounds of the reaper's mocking laugh,
There are two sides to every story.
One for death,
One for glory,
It is so between heaven and hell
You must decide to whom your soul seeks,
There are no gray areas,
Only black and white.
But who saves the person with no objective life?
Is it our loving Father,
Or His hateful foe?
Who decides where the confused one's soul
is to go?
I stand not to live a blasphemous state,
But these are the questions I must ask of late.
I cannot help a brother or save his life.
If I am overrun by indecision and strive,
My advice to all as I see at this time,
Never conform and always be kind.
I know not where your soul will end,
But your life will be at peace until then.

—Lonnie Thompson

Beautiful

Beautiful is you.
Beautiful is me.
Beautiful is love.
Beautiful is saving all of my love for you.
Beautiful is sharing the love of God.
Beautiful is lighting up my heart with happiness.
Beautiful is when I look in your eyes.
Beautiful is being very nice.

—Albert Williams

Cast from the Past

Sitting in Literature, staring into space
All I can see is my Lit teacher's face.
"Write a novel," she said.
"Okay, a poem instead."
Only then as I began to think,
My idea-filled brain began to shrink.
I look to literature classes for the past.
Now I see the characters that were cast.
GREAT EXPECTATIONS I have
To win that RED BADGE OF COURAGE
For I am not an INVISIBLE MAN
Nor a RAISIN IN THE SUN.
I don't have TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD
To win the GRAPES OF WRATH.
Only on the GOOD EARTH
Will an ODESSY last.
Wait!
I can't think.
This class is an ANIMAL FARM.
If I read ANNE FRANK'S DIARY,
Do you think it would cause them harm?
In the end, my poem won the PEARL.
Wait!
I'm left with the SCARLETT LETTER.
Danny's poem turned out better!

—Tracy Tuberville

Graduation Night

June 8, June 8, is coming near.
We may be happy, but we still have fears.
What will we do? Where will we run?
We can't play anymore, we can't have fun.

Now is the time to wish our farewells.
Don't worry about it if you can't spell!
Just think about that grand old Night!
We won't have to argue, not even fight!

We'll walk down the aisle with joy and tears.
Wishing we'd never seen all those years.
Oh boy! Oh boy! Will we miss our friends.
But guess what Class of 88? We'll meet again!

—Kenneth Hayes

Friends

Friends are good and friends are bad.
They can make you happy, or they can make you sad! They come and go as time passes by,
But a friend is someone of whom you can Always rely.

You'll laugh and play and have lots of fun,
But when it's over, what's done is done!
When things look rough, look up and smile,
Because friends are what make it all worthwhile!

—Tonya Oglesby

The Mask

No one ever asked why he wore a mask.
Was there pain and scars to cover, or was he hiding
from a lover?
Was there a secret or a crime? Why did this man look like he lost his last dime?
I hate to be nosey, or even a little cozy.
As I sat staring at this stranger,
He lifted his mask.
Oh, God, it was a sin!
It was my ex-boyfriend.

—Renee Smart

Life's Road

I trod upon the road of life,
At first it was straight and true
But then I came upon a fork,
And knew not what to do.
My friends went left, and so I followed,
Not wanting to get lost.
But then we came upon a toll,
And so, I asked the cost.
The Red Guard answered, in a friendly tone,
"The cost is very low."
You can take the road, that's wild and fun,
For only half your soul.

—Barry Coleman

falling in love . . .
it's so easy if you want it when your mind lets go and you fall in complete trust and you lay on the velvet soft petals of the rose until . . .
again you fall this time to be caught by the bloody thorns of that rose and softly cry
as they impale your chest and rip out your heart

—J. D. Pina

Dead Brain Cell

Lifeless and inanimate
Its function has ceased.
The venom of growth
Shall enter it no more.

Although one of many
The Hell will continue.
Grotesque killings
Are on your blood-stained conscience.

The pale whimper of these hollow shells
Swell into an army of raging psychos.
Hacking and dismembering your mind
Until it is nothing but paralyzed flesh.

The skin on our torso will die
And the nerves will shrink into numbness.
Effects such as these
Shall haunt your perceptions indefinitely.

Substances and chemicals
Steadily flow into your system.
They are the parasites of breath
And you supply their unfathomable appetites.

Take heed and warning!
If the dead brain cell rules
Then your presence will be reduced
To equal the pulverized powder under your sole.

—Chris Cook

God's Love

God's love is the best love of all.
God's love is more in so many ways.
I love God with all my heart, mind, and soul.
God's love is wonderful and beautiful.
Be thankful for what God blesses you with.
God's love is what you need when you are down and out.
God's love is what you need when you are sad and crying.
God's love is what you need to get you through the day and night.
God's love is what you need when you can't pay the bills.
God's love is what you need to get you through your life on earth.
God's love is what you need everyday, sad, crying, happy, mad.

—Albert Williams

Lost Soul

As I watched, there she was falling
Falling, and Falling, and Falling
And I reached out,
wanting to help her
Wanting to catch her, and speak with her.

But she pushed me away
Saying, "It is my destiny, and I'll be damned if you are going to stop me."
So, I let go.

Again she would fall,
and fall, and fall
And again, I would watch
In despair, gazing,
As best I could
Into her lost soul.

—Jay Melvin

Philosopher's Love

the ocean mixes with a river and the river with the sea like love, two bodies unite as one with sweet emotion
nature blends its beautiful colors that are gentle and divine but what are all these blendings worth if your love not blend with mine.

the blue sky seems to kiss the sea and roaring waves clasp each other flowers weaken and eternally sleep, to wait for their spawning brother nature changes day to day to build its extravagant shrine and with that comes the temple of life as i want you in mine.

—J. D. Pina

Youth

A childhood memory
Is nothing but the roots of learning.

Cherish these thoughts,
For they are perishable.

Youthful pleasures are behind you
But can life infinitely in resourceful minds?

These bright green perceptions
Continue to strangle you.

But accept them.
They can guide you to never-ending joyous-ness.

—Chris Cook

Drugs and Who

Fear exceeds the mind.
Dangerous and skeptical
Things go through your head.
You think you're one of a kind,
But there are others like you.
Not far ahead
You pollute yourself with artificial substances
You feel alone.
But what the the circumstances?
You're stoned.
You're a loser.
You're a drug abuser.
So why should you be different?
I think you are scum.
Spreading diseases like a bum
Dissolve in your own little world
But leave humanity alone
We are responsible for our own.

A Letter from the Editor

Dear Friends,

I am graduating from Groves this year, and I will miss it dearly. I will always hold in my heart the fond memories that Groves has given me. These past four years have been busy ones. There have been many disappointments but the highlights of these years far outweigh the bad times. I will remember the fun times, friends, teachers, and classes that have helped me to realize my talents and abilities.

I was given the honor of being editor of the 1988 Sentinel. I would like to thank Mr. Jimmy Morel, my advisor, for giving me this opportunity.

I have learned that to publish a yearbook is not an easy task. Much, much work is involved. Many hours are spent after school, on weekends, and during holidays. Deadlines seem to come and go too fast!

I would like to especially thank my assistant editor, Jay Melvin, for all his help in the production of this book. I must also thank Mark Glidewell, Sam Fuller, and Latarasha Parrish for their unselfishness and willingness to work during the Christmas holidays in order for the yearbook to be completed on schedule. Thank you again, staff, for your dedication!

I hope you will treasure the contents of this yearbook for years to come. Best wishes to you all, and may God bless each of you richly in the years ahead.

Love,
Ann Marie Kirby

CONGRATULATIONS! YOU'VE GOT IT MADE.

We don't have to tell you what an important accomplishment getting through school is. You've worked hard, stuck to it, and now you've really got it made. Congratulations from your neighborhood Hardee's restaurant to the graduating seniors and to all the others who are well on the way.

We're out to win you over.™

Getting back to the country.

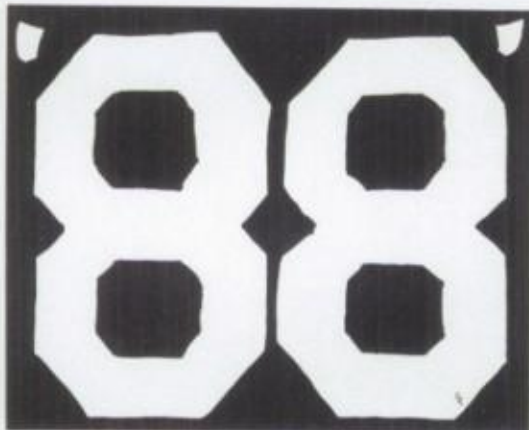

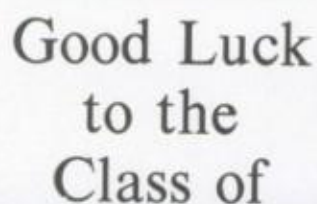

We at the Roger Wood Packing Company are proud to present to you our product line. The products pictured below are the ones largely responsible for our rapid growth in the southeast. The Roger Wood Co. has steadily grown in 41 years of business, largely due to our customers appreciation of our smoked meat products and the "down home" service provided by our employees and family owners. Our motto "Getting back to the country", reminds us of our heritage and our commitment to quality and service. We hope it reminds you, our valued customer, of the same thing.

Rebecca,
Well we finally made it! I didn't think I'd ever see the day!
We've been through a lot together since we've known each other!
I think the best thing that happened this school year was the birth

Kay,

As one part of your life comes to a close and you go out into the world, just remember; you can have or be anything you want if you try hard enough. Always remember that I love you and I am very proud of you.

Victoria! you've helped me out this year with my history and to me it means a lot that you're helping, and stood beside me in my fights <sup>11/11/11</sup>! It's funny how we totally switched attitudes, but maybe it's good! Maybe I can help you as much as you helped me! Love KFT after graduation!

Union Camp in Georgia

In 1935 Union Camp Corporation, then known as Union Bag and Paper Corporation, helped change the course of the paper making industry when it began construction of a pulp and paper mill in Savannah, Georgia. This mill marked the beginning of a major shift, by the paper industry, to the use of southern pine. Ever since that time, Union Camp has continued to grow with the Peach State.

Today, Union Camp, an integrated forest products company, employs over 5,000 people at its various sites in Georgia, making it one of the state's largest employers. Company operations in Georgia produce a wide variety of paper, packaging, chemical and building materials. In addition to manufacturing, Union Camp conducts extensive forest management operations and a real estate development project within the state.

Union Camp ranks in the top half of the Fortune 500, with annual sales of approximately $2 billion and assets of more than $2.5 billion.

Rebecca,

Well its been a long year. We've had some differences and some good times, I don't which he had more of. You are a special person to me whether you know it or not. I love you, but you don't know how or why. I want you to take care of yourself and that pretty little girl Victoria.
I'll keep in touch and I want you to do the same.

Rebecca,

We finally made it!!
It's been a long hard time, Thank God it's over. I'm glad that we've been friends.
We've had some good
times in the past,
hopefully will be able
